Five Major Airlines Hit By Walkout

WASHINGTON (AP)—A machinists union strike crippled operations of five major airlines today.

More than 35,000 members of AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists began walking off their jobs at 6 a. m. local time. A half hour later a spokesman announced the five airlines—Eastern, Northwest, National, Trans World and United—had canceled all originating flights.

In some cases, the spokesman said, through flights were continuing to their final destinations.

Picket lines formed at New York, Washington and other airports in the populous Eastern section of the nation at 6 a. m. EDT. The strike then spread westward from one time zone to the next.

The five airlines normally carry more than 250,000 passengers daily, according to an airlines survey, on flights blanketing the United States and spanning the globe.

Last-ditch negotiations failed to resolve the labor dispute that began last year.

At his Texas Ranch, President Johnson deplored the failure of the union and airlines to reach agreement on wages and other issues. He ordered the Civil Aeronautics Board to work to minimize inconvenience to the public and told the Defense Department to report immediately on any problems that arise.

The union said, however, that all IAM workers involved in military aircraft contracts would remain on the job.

Johnson also asked Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien to use every means of moving the mails as rapidly as possible. The President was especially concerned that there be no delay in mail to servicemen in Viet Nam.

The five airlines serve 231 cities in the United States and 21 cities abroad. Their 94,000 employees represent about 64 per cent of the industry's total employment. In terms of revenue passenger miles the five firms account for 61 per cent of domestic trunk airline operations.

The airlines said that if no substitute services were provided, the strike would leave 68 cities without trunk air service.

The Civil Aeronautics Board, or White House orders, called in separately Thursday night rep-

In Hancock Action

Plant Bond Sales Discussed Again

Further action on the sale of industrial development bonds to finance construction of two new plants in Hancock County was being discussed by the county commissioners during a meeting which opened late this morning at the Courthouse in New Cumberland.

Today's session came in the wake of conflicting reports over a petition submitted to the commissioners asking that no further action be taken on the proposal made by the Air Reduction Co., with headquarters in New York City, until a public hearing can be held on the matter.

It originally had been announced that the petition had been signed on behalf of the Waterford Park race track and five industries in the northern part of the county.

Officials of two of the industries reportedly involved today denied having had any part in the action.

THE COMMISSIONERS earlier had agreed to sell industrial development bonds in the amount of $24 million to finance construction of an $18-million air separation plant and a $6-million welding wire plant on a 276-acre tract along Route 66 adjoining Waterford Park.

Under terms of the West Virginia Industrial Development

Bond Act, the two plants would be leased by the commissioners to Air Reduction with the rentals to amount to the interest and principal of the bonds.

The rentals would continue until the retirement of the bonds in 17 years, after which the plants would become the property of Air Reduction and subject to property taxation.

During the 17-year lease period, Air Reduction would be exempt from personal and real estate property in Hancock County because the property would be in the name of the county.

First reports said the petition had been signed by the Globe Brick Co., the Homer Laughlin China Co., the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co., the T-K Roofing Manufacturing Co. and the Iron City Sand and Gravel Co. in addition to Waterford Park.

OFFICIALS of both Globe Brick and T.K. declared today, however, that the statement—which they attributed to James F. Edwards, owner of Waterford Park—was unauthorized and erroneous.

William F. Porter, president of Globe Brick, and T. K. Kashuba, an executive with T.K., declared they did not sign the petition.

Porter said: "We were asked

Found During June Inspection

County Quarantine Is Set In Spread Of Leaf Beetle

LISBON—Columbiana County has been quarantined for the cereal leaf beetle. County Extension Agent Joe D. Pittman announced today.

The county is one of many in northeastern Ohio in which the European invader has been detected since its spread across the state after first being reported in Berrien County, Mich., in July 1962.

Three agents of the U. S. Department of Agriculture found the beetle while inspecting Columbiana County fields late last month.

The bluish-black-and-red beetle is a serious problem in Europe, North Africa and the Middle East. Agriculturists believe it entered the U.S. via St. Lawrence Seaway shipping.

John M. Stackhouse, director of the Ohio Department of Agriculture, advised Pittman of the quarantine. The order stops movement of uncertified hay, straw, oats, wheat, barley, corn and other grains into or through unquarantined areas. Shipments may be made within the quarantine area.

Pittman said all counties north and west of Columbiana are quarantined, but neighboring Jefferson, Harrison, Belmont and other southeastern and southern counties are not. There is no quarantine in Pennsylvania.

The penalty for moving materials without certification is a fine of up to $1,000 and or 90 days in jail.

Pittman said county elevators are planning to install equipment to treat the grain. He said there are periods during the year when the materials can be shipped without restriction.

Producers desiring more information and recommended treatment for hay, straw and grain may contact the extension office, 113 S. Market St., Lisbon, or phone Lisbon 424-7291.

Near Salineville, Burgettstown Four Teen-Agers Lose Lives In County, District Accidents

2 Cars, Rig Involved In Rt. 18 Crash

Pennsylvanians Die In Wreck; Weirton Man's Auto Struck

Three Pennsylvania teen-agers were killed in a spectacular traffic accident that left wreckage strewn over a quarter of a mile of Route 18 north of Burgettstown, Pa., Thursday.

Pennsylvania state police at Carnegie said the triple fatality, timed at 9:50, involved two cars and a tractor-trailer truck.

The victims, all 18, were George E. Abbott of Burgettstown the driver, and his passengers, Carl L. Pesolinski of Burgettstown R. D. 3 and Frederick Esno of Slovan.

The mishap occurred about a mile north of Burgettstown in Washington County.

Officers said Abbott was headed south on Route 18 in a 1957 sedan, traveling at an estimated 80 to 100 miles an hour. He failed to negotiate a curve and the car went out of control. It hit the rear of an oncoming auto operated by George Roach, 56, of Overlook Dr., Weirton.

Following the initial impact, Abbott's car glanced off and slammed head-on into an oncoming tractor-trailer rig operated by Minor Baisden, 28, of Wintersville.

Roach escaped injury, but Baisden suffered minor arm abrasions.

Officers said the wreckage from the vehicles was lying on and along the highway for more than a quarter of a mile. Damage was estimated at $20,000. Abbott and Esno were thrown from the vehicle while Pesolinski remained inside.

All three youths were pronounced dead at the scene. All suffered multiple injuries, officers reported.

38,600 Idled By Spread Of Ford Strike

CLEVELAND (AP)—More than 30,000 Ford Motor Co. hourly employees at 13 plants in five states and Canada were idle today as a result of a strike by some 8,600 employees at the company's three suburban Brook Park plants.

Two engine plants and a foundry were struck Wednesday morning by Local 1250 of the United Auto Workers Union following an all night bargaining session concerning numerous grievances. A company spokesman said the union rejected a Ford offer "in the final minutes before a strike deadline."

The company said operations at its plants must be halted during the strike in order to adjust parts production and assembly activities to the reduced availability of engines. A spokesman said other plants would be closed if the strike continued next week.

Proprietor Of Club Fined In Raid Hearing

Robert Fryer, proprietor of the Half Moon Lounge, hit in a raid Wednesday night by West Virginia state police, was fined $50 and costs after pleading guilty to a charge of selling whisky by Squire Thomas Bellanco of Weirton in a hearing Thursday.

The troopers entered the Half Moon and the Cactus Bar, both located in "the Strip" on Route 30 between Chester and the Pennsylvania line, in a simultaneous operation.

Shirley Reed of Chester R.D. 1, operator of the Cactus, was earlier fined a total of $200 on various gaming and liquor violations by Squire Bellanco.

Dodge MIGs, Rockets, Hit 4 Torpedo Boats

U.S. Fighter-Bombers Blast Oil, Rail, Missile Sites In North Viet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U. S. fighter-bombers blasted oil, rail and missile sites in North Viet Nam Thursday, dodged Communist MIGs and missiles and knocked out four torpedo boats. The U. S. command reported.

In a day of furious air action, two American planes were shot down. The pilot of one was rescued; the other is missing.

The four torpedo boats were spotted by reconnaissance planes near a coastal island about 30 miles southeast of Haiphong. The Navy said the camouflaged boats opened fire.

Three attack flights were launched from the carriers Constellation and Hancock. They reported sinking two of the torpedo boats trying to flee, heavily damaging another and leaving the fourth beached and burning. It was the third attack on North Vietnamese torpedo boats within a week.

Both U. S. and Vietnamese military headquarters reported only minor skirmishes in the ground war in South Viet Nam. A U. S. spokesman said there was no significant contact with the enemy in the past 24 hours.

The Navy reported that its planes which raided the Haiphong fuel depot Thursday had just about finished the destruction of the port facilities for unloading and storing oil—including two vital oil-pumping stations—following the first attack there 10 days ago. The announcement indicated only about six per cent of the installation still remained.

Besides the followup Haiphong strike, U.S. planes Thursday blasted an oil dump 35 miles north of Hanoi, another 43 miles southeast of Vinh and a missile site 20 miles northeast of Haiphong. The Air Force also reported destroying 26 oxcars, damaging 48 and cutting the tracks in 28 places.

U.S. Navy and Air Force planes flew a total of 77 missions Thursday. A spokesman said there were about 250 individual plane strikes. The air losses brought the number of American planes shot down since the start of the air war on Feb. 7, 1965, to 282.

The pilot rescued uninjured from the sea by helicopter was identified as Lt. Cmdr. William J. Isenhour of Lemoore, Calif., whose Navy A4 Skyhawk was part of the attack force against the Haiphong depot.

The other plane, an Air Force F105 Thunderchief, was shot down by anti-aircraft fire 90 miles northwest of Hanoi.

The Strategic Air Command's B52s kept up their two-day raids in South Viet Nam. One wave of the Guam-based bombers struck a Viet Cong camp 120 miles west-southwest of Saigon. Another formation hit an enemy concentration 60 miles north-northwest of the capital.

Other U.S. planes flew 359 sorties in the South Thursday. The fliers claimed destruction or damage to 530 structures and killing 41 enemy soldiers. South Vietnamese pilots flew 290 sorties.

Two MIG21s, the best jets in the North Vietnamese air force, jumped a flight of Air Force Thunderchiefs 35 miles north-northwest of Hanoi Thursday. One of the MIGs uncorked two air-to-air missiles but they exploded harmlessly some distance from the American fighter-bombers, a spokesman said.

The encounter broke off without damage to either side, he said.

It was the first confirmed instance of MIGs firing air-to-air missiles at U.S. jets over North Viet Nam. But the spokesman noted that a MIG7 had fired a missile at a propeller-driven A1 Skyraider during the rescue of a downed American pilot last May.

The American planes also dodged three surface-to-air missiles northeast and northwest of Hanoi.

The attacking carrier planes took heavy anti-aircraft fire in the action against the torpedo boats but there was no damage to them.

Jerald Thomas Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred (Bud) Johnston of Brush Creek Rd., was pronounced dead at City Hospital of a compound skull fracture.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the youth was driving north on Route 633, about two miles north of Salineville, when the 1964 pickup truck went off the left side of the highway, then came back, rolling over and landing on its wheels.

The mishap was timed at 8:30.

The youth, born at Canton June 30, 1949, was a member of the Stanton Local High School choir and band and the Boys Quartet. He was a member of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church of Bergholz.

The death was the 15th fatality in Columbiana County this year compared with 15 at this time in 1965.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by a brother, Jeffrey Johnston, at home; two sisters, Kathy Johnston and Linda Johnston, at home, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Johnston of Mechanics-town and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bai of Canton.

BERRYVILLE, Va. (AP)—Former U.S. Sen. Harry F. Byrd, senior statesman of Virginia politics, remained in a deep coma today at his home here.

There was no reported change in the condition of the 79-year-old Byrd. A son, Richard E. Byrd, first revealed Wednesday that his father was in a coma from a malignant brain tumor and not expected to recover.

Byrd, a former Virginia governor, served 32 years in the U.S. Senate before retiring last November. He was succeeded by another son, Harry F. Byrd Jr., who interrupted his campaign for the Democratic nomination for the remaining four years of his father's term.

$180,000 Loan Okayed In District Water System

William H. Schladen, chairman of the Lawrenceville Public Service District, announced today that the U.S. Farmers Home Administration has approved a $180,000 loan for the construction of a water distribution system.

Approval was made on the condition that the district arrive at a contract with the city of Chester for the necessary water "at a reasonable cost" and also on the district's obtaining contracts with 182 prospective users of the proposed water system, Schladen said.

The board of the Lawrenceville Public Service District, which is comprised of Schladen, James E. Fox and Donald Shaw, has combined its efforts with residents of Lawrenceville to obtain financing for a water system since 1962. The district, encompasses a population of approximately 650. Most of the homes to be serviced are located within a one-mile-square area, the chairman pointed out.

Attorney for the service district is Callie Tsapis of Weirton. Consulting engineers are Cerrone & Vaughn, Inc., of Wheeling.

A public meeting will be held at the Lawrenceville fire station next Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. to acquaint residents of the district with the proposal and to obtain their cooperation in acquiring the necessary number of contracts, Schladen announced.

He urged all residents of the district, which includes Lawrenceville and Johnsonville, to at-

'Action' Gets $23,726 For County Work

LISBON — A federal grant of $23,726 for operations of the Community Action Committee of Columbiana County, administrator of the "war on poverty" programs for the county, was announced Thursday by Rep. Wayne L. Hays, 18th District Congressman.

The funds will be used for staff salaries, office operations and other activities of the CAC for the year starting Aug. 1. The CAC office received $12,257 to operate the first six months ending July 31 and last May advised the Office of Economic Opportunity it would require $26,459 for the next year.

CAC listed $2,963 of the total as the non-federal share to be furnished "in kind" by the county commissioners and vol-

Ohioville Adopts New Ordinances

Ordinances aimed at the control of disorderly conduct, curbing soliciting of homes and protection of fire equipment were adopted by Ohioville Council during a meeting Thursday night.

Under the legislation, canvassing or soliciting of goods is prohibited without the permission of occupants or owners of private residents. An amendment may be added later to require a soliciting permit, councilmen said.

The fire equipment ordinance governs the use of the water outlet for loading the fire truck tank and was made necessary because the outside water valve repeatedly had been turned on and water used indiscriminately, councilmen explained.

Paul Dawson, Council president, also emphasized that police will be authorized to enforce the septic tank ordinance already in effect.

SEVERAL property owners with septic tank seepage have ignored three or four letters from the borough and have done nothing to remedy the situation, Dawson reported. He cautioned that legal measures will be taken to enforce the ordinance where necessary.

Those who have installed or extended sewage systems without the required septic tank permits will be billed for the permits by Emily A. Carroll, borough secretary. Dawson said.

George Gailey Jr., chairman of the road committee, reported that the oiling of all borough roads has been completed.

Richard Rice, finance committee chairman, said the budget for the year "has been running about normal."

Mayor Elmer Gifford, chairman of the industrial development committee, reported that the Basinger Agency of Midland has offered a piece of ground on Fairlane Dr. in Meadowbrook Estates to be used as a playground for the borough. The committee had been asked to look into the possibilities of acquiring ground somewhere in the borough for this purpose.

Gifford reported 21 complaints investigated during June. Four warnings were issued, with no arrests made, and $70 was collected in fines. He also reported that five of the borough's special police helped direct Fourth of July parade activities in Midland.

IN ANSWER to a request by the Auxiliary of the Ohioville Volunteer Fire Department that a pay phone be installed in the borough building, Council authorized the secretary to check with the Bell Telephone Co. on the proposed installation.

Previously a pay phone was located outside the building, but because of vandalism the company removed the service.

Council agreed to contribute $2,100 to the Fire Department under the yearly contribution program.

Bills were approved for payment from the general fund in the amount of $10,535.97.

The next meeting will be Aug. 4, at 8 p. m.

Driver Fined After Pursuit

A 30-year-old East Liverpool man, arrested after a four-block pursuit by a police cruiser early today, was fined $25 and costs this morning by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff when he pleaded guilty to a reckless driving charge.

Charles R. Emier of 1956 Dresden Ave. was cited by Patrolman Howard E. Frontz for exceeding the prima facie speed limit on W. 8th St., Jefferson St. and W. 6th St. and crashing a traffic signal at W. 6th and Jefferson Sts.

Frontz told the judge he was driving west on the four-lane stretch of W. 8th St. about 2:52 a. m. when he observed Emier's car going east "at high speed." He turned around and gave chase, he related.

The officer said he trailed Emier along W. 8th, Jefferson and W. 6th Sts. He said Emier finally halted on the Diamond, got out of his car and said, "I suppose you want my driver's license and registration card."

Emier told the judge he did not think he was driving recklessly. He said he did not see the police car behind him.

The judge decreed a fine of $5 and costs for James C. Knight, 20, of Annesley Rd., Glenmoor, after convicting him on a charge of crashing a traffic light at 5th and Market Sts. Thursday at 2:40 p. m. Knight pleaded not guilty.

He was convicted on the testimony of Patrolman William A. Devon, who said his cruiser was halted behind Knight's at the traffic signal. Devon said Knight pulled through the intersection when a "walk" light switched off. He said the light's control allows a 12-second delay before switching to green after the "walk" light is out.

The court set hearings Wednesday at 9 a. m. for two Wellsville drivers arrested Saturday on Route 7 by the State Highway Patrol. They are Mrs. Nancy Lee Conci of 616 Main St., charged with making an improper turn, and Russell J. McCoy of 537 Broadway, accused of failure to stop in the assured clear distance. Mrs. Conci pleaded "no contest" when arraigned today and McCoy pleaded not guilty.

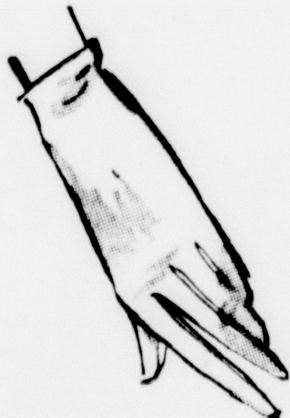

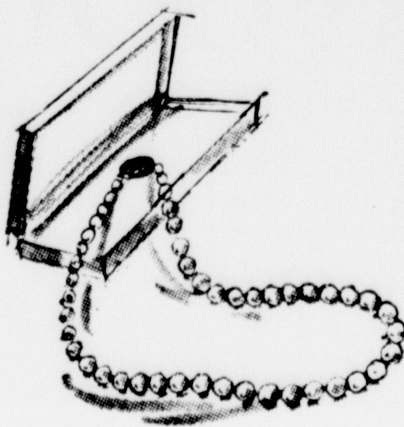

Kenneth Pohlman of Youngstown, cited Saturday by the patrol on a charge of speeding 70 miles an hour in a 60-mile zone on Route 30, forfeited a $17.50 appearance bond.

Cleveland Rights Subcommittee Offers Proposals

CLEVELAND (AP)—A Civil Rights subcommittee has offered 106 recommendations aimed at combating discrimination and related poverty in the Greater Cleveland area.

The 47-page report, compiled by the Cleveland subcommittee of the Ohio State Advisory Committee to the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, was made public Thursday night.

The report summarizes commission and staff findings about the civil rights climate here in seven major areas—Housing, education, employment, police-community relations, health, welfare and municipal services.

The report emphasizes the need for more tax money "for the services needed to keep citizens in health and decency." It says that while the subcommittee's recommendations are mostly addressed to public officials, actual social changes will depend upon continued citizen concern and demand.

One More Blow For Freedom

The presidential signature on a new law insuring greater public access to federal records is one of those blows for freedom the public never can hope to understand and public officials never can be expected to like.

It will complicate official problems by lifting the lid of secrecy on many matters now hidden from view routinely. Its most important provision will put them on the defensive if challenged. They must prove they had a good reason to hide something. Previously, the seeker of information had to prove he had a good reason to want to disclose something.

The new law's full effect when it goes in force next year will not be known for years to come. It will be tested continuously and systematically by both government employees and persons who cope with their instinct to conceal what might be embarrassing to them.

Newspapers owe special gratitude to U.S. Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., for fighting this battle to a successful conclusion. Rep. Moss is chairman of the Freedom of Information subcommittee of the House Committee on Government Operations.

He was cast in an awkward role of putting the people's constitutional right to know ahead of the government's assumed right to keep them from knowing what cannot be revealed conveniently. The issue is old and never will be settled.

The fight is to keep the government from hiding information. It never ends. If officialdom has its way, it would tell the people only what it wanted them to know, never what they needed to learn.

Better Guessing This Time

There is nerve-shattering similarity between hearty reassurances from high places in 1950 that China could be counted out of the Asian war and today's bright promises that Peking can be counted on to lose face in Viet Nam without wincing.

Today, as 16 years ago, the authoritative guesswork was being done by the military brass and the striped-pants diplomats. They knew everything there was to know about the Chinese People's Republic and its intentions in Korea, they said.

They knew the morale of China's fighting men had been shattered in encounters with U.S. forces and their U.N. allies in North.

They knew the Chinese Reds lacked motivation to tangle with the better-armed, better-disciplined, better-motivated Americans and their U.N. allies.

They were confident that the famous U.S. general on the scene, Douglas MacArthur, could handle whatever the Chinese tried to do because they had his word for it that he had sized up the Chinese situation and had no misgivings.

Optimism Mounts

WASHINGTON

Nobody has said yet the boys will be home from Viet Nam by Christmas—or even a year from Christmas, but optimism is in the air.

It is guarded, of course, and at the State Department officials privately are counseling caution.

But at no time since the United States jumped into the Vietnamese war has Washington seemed so confident. And the confidence starts at the top.

"Our diplomatic reports indicate that the opposing forces no longer really expect a military victory in South Viet Nam," a buoyant President Johnson told the nation Tuesday.

He was quick to add, "I am aware of the dangers of speculation," but it did not detract from what became the dominant theme this week. The tide has turned in favor of the United States.

JOHNSON HAS been optimistic before. For instance, he said last January in his State of the Union address: "The enemy is no longer close to victory. Time is no longer on his side."

But this time a chorus of top administration leaders are blending their voices with the President's. And activity in the diplomatic arena appears to give solid substance to their song of cheer.

British Prime Minister Harold Wilson, who has been hinting at a new peace bid for some weeks, will fly to Moscow toward the end of next week.

In Hong Kong, senior American officials were reported predicting another diplomatic approach to persuade Hanoi to negotiate.

In Washington, Undersecretary of State

By Barry Schweid

George Ball told a news conference Wednesday foreign diplomats in North Viet Nam had reported deteriorating Communist morale.

And in Los Angeles to address the annual governors' conference, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey spoke Wednesday of "flickering bits of evidence" that indicate North Viet Nam's leaders are seeking "some way out" of the war.

The current round of optimism was touched off last Saturday in Saigon when Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the U.S. commander in Viet Nam, said "yes" when asked if "we have now begun to win."

Monday, in a July 4 speech at Independence Hall in Philadelphia, Ball said the United States will continue its fight "and we shall prevail."

JOHNSON quickened the tempo at his news conference at the LBJ ranch in Texas the next day.

On Wednesday, Secretary of State Dean Rusk told Japanese Foreign Minister Etsusaburo Shina he is convinced North Vietnamese forces can be defeated and that the process is under way.

Meanwhile, Ball was telling a news conference at the State Department about "a greater war weariness among the people" of North Viet Nam.

Like the President, Humphrey, Rusk and Ball mixed in full measures of caution.

Humphrey said the "flickering bits of evidence" were "not solid or concrete." Rusk said, "we have seen no evidence that the other side wants peace." And Ball said, "I don't want to create an overly optimistic picture."

And yet the optimism is there, on the record, for all to see.

Something For Micronesia

The islands of what is generally called Micronesia are among the most neglected in the world. A great deal of the blame can be laid to the United States. Now the islanders are being offered new promises.

The United States announced plans on June 27 to triple its annual financial aid to the Pacific islands under its administration. Eugene Anderson, American delegate to the United Nations Trusteeship Council, told that group that Congress had been asked to authorize $172 million for a five-year program of economic and educational development.

It had been announced previously that the Peace Corps would send people to the Trust Territory. Some 400 volunteers are expected to arrive there by the end of October, according to the Peace Corps Volunteer.

Education is the big problem. The 90,000 people in the Pacific Trust Territory speak a minimum of nine languages. Scholars disagree about which are separate languages and which are dialects. Some hold there are many more than nine languages.

THREE YEARS AGO, U.S. administrators embarked on an all-out, long-range program to teach all Micronesians English. Since then, English has been the language of instruction in all Trust Territory Schools.

E. J. Kahn, Jr. observes "A good many Micronesians are sorry this didn't happen 20 years ago. Living in a region where nature has always been bountiful, they have rarely hungered for food, but they have long felt deprived of education."

The Japanese, immediate predecessors to the Americans, spent four times as much money on policemen as on teachers. In other respects, some Micronesians look upon the Japanese occupation as the "good old days." The average hourly wage for Micronesians now is only 35 cents, a third of the prewar level.

The United States is responsible for three of persons who cope with their instinct to conceal what might be embarrassing to them.

Newspapers owe special gratitude to U.S. Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., for fighting this battle to a successful conclusion. Rep. Moss is chairman of the Freedom of Information subcommittee of the House Committee on Government Operations.

He was cast in an awkward role of putting the people's constitutional right to know ahead of the government's assumed right to keep them from knowing what cannot be revealed conveniently. The issue is old and never will be settled.

The fight is to keep the government from hiding information. It never ends. If officialdom has its way, it would tell the people only what it wanted them to know, never what they needed to learn.

The Big Domino!

Real Meaning Of U.S. Policy

By Raymond Moley

Lyndon B. Johnson, beset by criticism from his own Democratic friends in the Senate, deeply conscious of the polls showing the decline in his popularity and irritated by demonstrations against our position in Viet Nam, has apparently decided the best defense is an offense—military and oratorical.

His long and at times impassioned speech in Omaha clearly showed this attitude, coming as it did immediately after the intensification of bombing of North Viet Nam.

At one point in that speech, he spoke words that were strictly Johnsonian. I doubt whether any White House ghost would have supplied them:

"I hear my friends say that I am troubled and I am confused and I am frustrated. . . . Sometimes I almost develop a stomach ulcer myself just listening to them."

The second of the two sentences really confirms the first. At least the friends to whom he refers were right when they said he was "troubled." But his response is a counteroffensive which denies that he is "confused" or "frustrated."

HIS RECENT utterances are a very human and understandable response to defectors in his own party. Americans who comprehend what he is facing will be sympathetic and even touched by his appeal.

His remarkable political sense is still operating. That is shown by his selection of Nebraska, and Iowa as the region in which he chose to make his appeal for support. He turns in this crisis to the Midwest and West not because he finds the center of his opposition there, but because that is where his firmest support lies for stepping up the war in Asia.

In this great controversy, doves can be found in widely scattered places over the nation, but for the most part they cluster in the East and Northeast. Pacifism is most marked in the intellectual and political life of New York.

In the congressional district in which I live and work, the 17th New York, which Mayor John Lindsay formerly represented, we are faced this year with a choice between a Republican and a Democrat, both of whom want us, as LBJ put it, to "tuck up our tail and run out of South Viet Nam."

Our New York senators, Jacob Javits and Robert Kennedy, are cooing across party lines. New York newspapers, excepting the Daily News, are ardently opposed to the new bombing offensive.

On the other side of the country, especially in the states that look toward the Pacific, support of the new Johnson hard line is undiminished.

THIS EAST-WEST division of opinion is not new.

In 1916 and 1940 when the shadows of the wars in Europe were looming, pacifist sentiment was greatest in the Midwest and West. In the eastern seaboard, sentiment for war was pronounced, for vast economic interests looked toward Europe.

In the years before the United States entered the war in 1917, almost overwhelming sentiment leaned toward helping the Allies against Germany. Much the same sentiment was present in the two years before Pearl Harbor.

Now that state of opinion is reversed.

The Johnson defense of intensifying the pressure on North Viet Nam is still impaired, I believe, by his concentration on helping South Viet Nam to establish itself as a "democratic" non-Communist state.

It would be more effective if he would concentrate on the point which he barely mentions—the American interest in keeping a bastion of power in Southeast Asia to protect the lifeline from Japan to Australia and India.

That is the real meaning of our policy. If Southeast Asia is overrun by Communists, we may well be fighting in the Philippines next. And beyond that would be a retreat to "Fortress America."

Brighter Look

By David Lawrence

Viet Nam Peace Hopes Mount

The air is clearing on the Viet Nam issue—both at home and abroad. This doesn't mean that the conflict will be over right away, but the position of the United States is being defined so positively the enemy must make up its mind soon that nothing is to be gained by prolonging the agony. The same stage could have been reached earlier had not the Communists been misled into believing that internal criticism in this country and lack of support from some nations abroad would deter the U.S. government and David Lawrence cause it to abandon its objectives in Southeast Asia.

President Johnson in his impromptu words at the Tuesday news conference this week made a better presentation of his case to the North Vietnamese than any envoy from a neutral country could have done. He said:

"We were very careful to select military targets that were not in the center of the area and to spare all civilians, and we took every precaution available to us. I cannot understand the thinking of any country or any people or any person that say that we should sit by our hands tied behind us while these men bring their mortars and their hand grenades and their bombs into our barracks and kill our marines and attack our camps and murder the village chief, and that we should not do anything about it."

"Now we have tried to make this difficult for them (the North Vietnamese) to continue at their present rate. We do not say it will stop the infiltration. We do not say that it will even reduce it. But we do think it will make it more difficult for them, and we do think it will require them to assign additional people, and we do think that it will give them problems."

THE PRESIDENT was telling the enemy, in effect, there's no use keeping up the battle because the United States has unlimited resources and intends to maintain indefinitely its bombing of targets containing military supplies.

The President, moreover, took occasion to deal with some of the criticisms of U.S. policy expressed inside Allied countries.

While he didn't mention Great Britain, his remarks may have been intended to refer to the situation faced by the government in London. He said:

"Now, it's difficult for me to understand the response of some nation that is not involved, but a few years ago when their own security was at stake and they needed American men and they wanted us to furnish American troops to be — not to be understanding in what we are trying to do to help others maintain their independence now."

Within the last few days, the American attitude of disappointment over British reaction has been penetrating public opinion in Great Britain. Some of the Labor members of Parliament who had been denouncing Prime Minister Wilson's policy and were about to make an issue of it suddenly switched to his side.

It was immediately thereafter announced also that the prime minister would visit the United States for a talk with President Johnson on July 28.

The conversion began as The London Daily Telegraph on June 30 outspokenly defended the American position, and said in an editorial:

"If the measure of American air operations against the North has steadily increased until yesterday's climax, that is not only because the Communists' response to diplomacy has been wholly negative but because they have stepped up their own operations to the point where the massive deployment of American air power becomes a military necessity."

THE DAILY TELEGRAPH went on to say:

"The bombing of the fuel dumps near Hanoi and Haiphong is aimed against the increasing mobility of northern infiltration into South Viet Nam. It will not stop this altogether, but it may well have a crippling effect — just as the intensive tactical air strikes in the South have broken up the Communists' concentrations and forced them back to the earlier phase of guerrilla warfare."

"This dislocation of their text-book planning might ultimately prove to have been the decisive stroke. The military justification for yesterday's raids is clear. As for moral justification, the greatest care was taken to avoid populated places."

"To have left the oil dumps immune because they were near North Viet Nam's two major cities would have exposed the forces and people in the South to heavier attack by an enemy who shows no such tenderness about civilian casualties."

A feeling of optimism prevails in official circles, where it is believed that within a relatively short time some of the numerous peace overtures will be fruitful and some kind of settlement will be consummated.

Acid Sprayed By Explosion Of Drum Here

A 55-gallon drum partially filled with sulphuric acid exploded Thursday afternoon in a Milliron Co. storage building on E. 2nd St., spraying the interior of the building.

City firemen, who were summoned at 5:55 p. m., had to use air packs to enter the building because of the intense fumes.

Firemen said the acid ate its way through one end of the drum. It exploded, causing the drum to hit the ceiling, resulting in some minor structural damage.

The principal damage was to other materials stored inside. Two other drums of acid, also partially filled, were stored in the same building. Firemen returned a second time and removed them to prevent additional difficulties.

Although the inside was sprayed with the acid, no fire resulted.

The Gabelfrühstück, which actually means a breakfast eaten with a fork, will consist of many types of different meats, most of them on the spicy side, or goulash.

LBJ Policies In Viet Backed By Governors

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The nearly unanimous verdict of the nation's governors is that there can be no turning back in the prosecution of the war in Viet Nam.

By a 49-1 vote, the governors gave approval at the windup of their 58th annual conference Thursday to a resolution affirming their "resolute support of our global commitments, including our support of the military defense of South Viet Nam against aggression."

The lone dissenter, Republican Gov. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon, called it a "blank check" for President Johnson's conduct of the war. He said he doesn't support Johnson's policies.

"I do not support escalation of this war," he declared.

Democratic Gov. Grant Sawyer of Nevada, who sponsored the resolution, said it did not commit the governors to future actions that might be taken.

Democratic Gov. William L. Guy of North Dakota, elected to succeed GOP Gov. John H. Reed of Maine as the conference chairman, took no part in the hot and at times waspish debate which preceded approval of the Viet Nam resolution.

The 49 votes included those of the governors of Samoa, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands. Gov. J. Millard Tawes of Maryland had left the conference. Gov. Clement of Tennessee failed to attend, as did Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and the governor of Guam.

There was unanimous approval of a meeting next year in the Virgin Islands, with a plush trip aboard a luxury liner thrown in.

What happened in this Beverly Hills meeting was that nobody established a political beachhead that seemed to give him a grip on his party's nomination for the 1968 prize of top place on the ticket. There was no Democratic competition, of course, against President Johnson.

On the other side, Gov. George Romney of Michigan presented no forceful bid for his party's No. 1 nomination to oppose Johnson's expected bid for an elected second term.

Romney opposed any conference declaration on Viet Nam. He said it wasn't needed, that the governors were wasting their time in talking about things they could not control and why didn't they get down to the business that concerned them.

But in the end, after supporting Hatfield in an ill-fated amendment to limit the endorsement to support of the American fighting men in Viet Nam, he voted for the Democratic-drafted resolution.

The political effect of the maneuverings was not clear. But even Romney's good friends didn't believe that he added to his political stature by his zig-zag performance.

Gov. John Connally of Texas made it clear that the principal reason Democrats wanted the conference to act on a Viet Nam resolution was to offset criticism by some party members in Congress of the President's course.

Despite everything that was said about it, the resolution the conference passed endorsed only a fight against Communist aggression and not the methods Johnson has pursued. Thus the Republicans who supported it were left free to criticize in this year's campaign how the President had carried out his job.

Brazilian-Built Cars

RIO DE JANEIRO — The Brazilian automobile industry has broken all production records this April with 19,173 new cars. According to the Ministry of Industry and Commerce, this figure represents a rise of 41 per cent over April of 1965.

Beulah Wells Claimed At 80

Dr. Beulah Wells, 80, formerly of Wellsville, a retired pediatrician in Cleveland, died Thursday at 2 p. m. at the W.C.A. Hospital in Jamestown, N. Y. She had suffered a heart attack Wednesday at her home in Chautauqua, N. Y.

97 Children Due In 6-Week Lisbon Summer Course

LISBON — School bells will ring Monday morning for 97 children enrolled for a six-week program emphasizing reading, mathematics and physical education.

The summer session, Lisbon's first under federal funds—$16,210 from Title I—will be held at Lincoln School with instruction on four levels—grades 1-3, grades 4-6, grade 7 and grade 8.

Each student will have 45 minutes of each subject daily. Classes will begin at 9 a. m. and end at 11:30. Lunch will be served in the cafeteria and school will be dismissed at noon. Buses will transport children living outside town.

Charles Powell, Lincoln principal and summer program director, said the children were selected on referral by their teachers. These are youngsters who need their skills sharpened, he said, rather than pupils who had to be retained.

The program will employ 10 teachers, an evaluator, secretary, custodian, two bus drivers and two cooks.

Ambassador Goldberg Confers With Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg conferred with Pope Paul VI for 50 minutes today and reportedly explained the bombing of the Haiphong and Hanoi oil depots which the Vatican has deplored.

It was Goldberg's second visit to the Pope in seven months. They met for an hour on Dec. 29, during the U.S. "peace offensive" that failed to bring the Communists to the negotiating table.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I deal with grease and smoke stains on woodwork?

A. — One treatment is to paint over the woodwork a solution of starch and water, and after this has dried, rub it off with a soft brush or clean cloth. This also removes stains. Woodwork treated in this manner doesn't harm the paint, and it stays good - looking for a long time, too. The care of woodwork is included in my new household - hints book.

Q. — How can I tenderize a steak which I suspect might prove tough on my family's teeth?

A. — By soaking it in a pint of water and a tablespoonful of vinegar for about 10 minutes before cooking it.

Hoffa Firmly In Teamsters' Driver's Seat

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Teamsters President James R. Hoffa sat more firmly in the driver's seat of the giant union today after being voted a new five-year term and perhaps the greatest power ever held by a labor leader.

"We are at the wheel," the triumphant Hoffa told nearly 2,000 convention delegates who ignored his 13-years impending prison sentences and re-elected him and other top union officials without a whisper of opposition.

Lionized as "the world's greatest labor leader," a "champion of champions," and "the greatest tiger of them all," Hoffa went promptly back to work.

"I'll be in my office in the morning," Hoffa, 53, said after ending the four-day convention he dominated with only a smattering of opposition on a few issues.

He urged the delegates to get behind the Teamster hierarchy and work for the benefit of the union's 1.7-million members and their families.

Among the benefits Hoffa won for himself were a $25,000 wage increase, to $100,000 a year; approval to pay his $1 million-plus in legal expenses, and a union constitution rewritten to guarantee him nearly air-tight job security even if he goes to jail.

And Hoffa gathered into his hands broad new authority to negotiate national, industry-wide and area-wide contracts in which all union locals must join if a majority of locals approve.

In a parting shot at his "enemies" — in which he lumped Congress, government, courts, business, the nation's press and broadcasting industries and some other unions — Hoffa said the Teamsters would re-enter the AFL-CIO only on their own terms. He demanded "no loss of jurisdiction" and the right to continue "organizing the unorganized."

Hoffa's chief worry now is the outcome of his Supreme Court appeal of an 8-year jury-tampering sentence, which could threaten his carefully built empire if he lands in jail.

Some of the 13 vice presidents who went along with Hoffa's one-man convention show hinted they might find the strength to try to end his nine-year reign if there was a prison wall between them and Hoffa.

But Hoffa laid down a series of constitutional roadblocks in their path by steering the election of the Detroit vice president, Frank Fitzsimmons, to the new post of general vice president.

to sign, but refused to do so. We have no objections to Airco locating here. In fact, we feel it would be good for the area because they would be supplying some of our customers."

Officials supporting the petition were quoted as saying it was important that citizens of the county "are made fully aware of the contents of the proposal." They said it seemed the action discriminated against other industries of the county, long established here and which are large taxpayers. It was asserted that the waiving of property taxes for 17 years was unfair to the schools, county departments and the state.

The petition declared that "other uses can be made of the property proposed to be occupied by the Air Reduction Co., which uses would result in very substantial improvements costing approximately $3 million being made to this property without requiring the county to arrange for the financing of the same, and that the land and improvements will all be subject to both real and personal property taxes, payable to this county, in substantial sums and that such other uses will furnish employment for a greater number of citizens of this county than the use proposed to be made of said lands by Air Reduction Co."

THE IMPROVEMENT referred to in the petition was the recreation complex being launched by Waterford Park.

The petition further states: "That although the proposal of Air Reduction Co. requires this county to issue bonds in a very substantial amount and to give up many thousands and possibly millions of dollars in tax revenue and thereby will in the future substantially affect the economy of the county, nevertheless, no public hearing has been held in connection with said proposal nor have the citizens and taxpayers been adequately informed concerning the proposed and the possible adverse effects that the lease plan may have upon the economy of the county."

Twelve marching units, including five high school bands, and 45 other units have been entered to date in the parade, he added.

Pay Of State Legislators Expected To Be Increased

CHICAGO (AP) — The pay scale for state legislators ranges from $100 to $10,000 a year and it's going to go up, an Associated Press survey shows.

New York's legislators, by voting this week to raise their expense allowances from $1,000 to $3,000, reached the compensation level of $13,000—$500 more than in Michigan, where the salary was $10,000 and expenses $2,500.

The House and Senate members in Albany, it is expected will keep their place at the top of the pay scale in 1967 with a $5,000 base pay boost, to $15,000, and $1,000 expenses.

But California's legislators, who made $6,000 and fringe pay this year, hope to jump to a $16,000 annual salary if voters approve a constitutional change allowing the legislators to set their own pay.

Michigan's Legislature tried for $17,500 next year, including $2,500 in expense allowance, but settled for $12,500 and $2,500.

Other high-population states generally pay legislators more than those less densely inhabited. And the states of middle legislator income expect to pay more next year.

These offer a contrast with New Hampshire, where a legislator gets $200 every two years, unless he's presiding officer of his house. Then, he gets $250. The lawmaker also gets a daily round-trip mileage whether he commutes to Concord or not.

In Wyoming, the base pay ceiling on a yearly basis is $240. This is figured on the basis of $12 a day during a session, with a maximum of 40 days each two years. However, a Wyoming lawmaker can claim $20-a-day expenses during the session, a rate that was raised from $12 in 1963.

26 To 30 Community Colleges

Pennsylvania Sets Master Plan In Higher Education

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The state Board of Education has unveiled a master plan for higher education that recommends a network of 26 to 30 community colleges throughout the commonwealth.

Dr. Otis C. McCreery, chairman of the state board, outlined the plan at a two-hour, closed-door luncheon of board members here Thursday.

The General Assembly asked the group in 1963 to formulate a comprehensive outline for the state's future in higher education.

Other recommendations include: —Continuation of the 14 state colleges.

—Establishment of three state-related institutions including already state-related Temple University and Penn State University, and the University of Pittsburgh, to become state related.

—Establishment of a council of community college officials.

—Establishment of a state board of trustees to regulate the 14 state colleges, making the present trustees members of an advisory board.

—Gradual phasing out, over an eight-year period, appropriations to private institutions unless they can meet certain graduate qualifications.

Dr. McCreery says the state Board of Education expects to adopt the plan on July 14. Details of the study will be made available after its presentation to Gov. Scranton July 28 according to Dr. McCreery.

The General Assembly must approve the state board's recommendations before the plan is enacted into law.

At present there are four two-year community colleges in the state. Seven more have been approved to open in 1967.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I best loosen gelatins from their molds?

A. — Dip a small, pointed knife in warm water and use this to loosen firm gelatin from around the edges of the mold. Then quickly dip the mold just to the rim in warm water. Shake the mold slightly, cover with a serving plate, then invert both plate and mold. Lift off the mold.

Q. — How can I help to prolong the life of a broom?

A. — By dipping the broom into soapy water or hot salt water about once a week — and always hang the broom up, or stand it on its handle — never let it rest on its bristles.

Q. — How can I soften the leather in a pair of inexpensive shoes?

A. — Try inserting a couple of scrubbed potatoes in each shoe and letting them stand this way overnight.

POWWOW

Q. In certain parts of Pennsylvania (and perhaps in other areas) some people go to "powwow" doctors. Just what is "powwow"?
A. "Powwow" is a form of folk medicine. The term is not related to group discussions by American Indians, but refers instead to a peculiar set of beliefs about the nature of illness and its cure. Powwow "doctors" are known as "Powwowers"; people treated are said to be "powwowed," or "tried for." Powwow rituals are passed on by word of mouth.

BRAIN SIZE

Q. Is it true that a large brain and high intelligence go hand in hand?
A. No. Zoologists generally agree that, within limits, the weight of the brain does not have a bearing on intelligence. However, mental deficiency does occur when the number of brain cells is below a certain limit. No one knows for sure what this limit is.

For Geneva Parley, End To Bombing

U.S., Red Governments Silent On Gandhi's Plan

LONDON (AP) — The U. S. and Communist governments were silent today on Indian Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's proposal for an immediate Geneva conference and the end of American bombing of North Viet Nam.

Mrs. Gandhi proposed Thursday that convening of the conference be followed by a truce and that a settlement include the withdrawal of all foreign forces from Viet Nam and guarantees of neutral independence for Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia.

There "can be no military solution in Viet Nam" and there is no alternative to a peaceful settlement, she said in a broadcast before leaving for talks with leaders of the United Arab Republic, Yugoslavia and the Soviet Union. She arrived in Cairo today to meet with President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Most foreign governments, including those of the United States and North Viet Nam, were informed of Mrs. Gandhi's proposal in advance. She also sent a personal letter to President Ho Chi Minh of North Viet Nam.

The crux of her proposal was another Geneva conference of the type held in 1954 to negotiate an end to the French Indochina War. The agreements reached at that conference are theoretically still in force and Britain and the Soviet Union remain the conference cochairmen.

Mrs. Gandhi said the cochairmen, instead of debating how the warring nations could be brought to the negotiating table, should immediately convene another meeting at Geneva.

"I offer these proposals as no more than an idea," Mrs. Gandhi said. "India is committed to a peaceful solution and not to any particular solution. We would be willing to support any alternative proposal that offers hope of success."

India is the chairman of the International Control Commission set up to oversee application of the provisions of the 1954 conference. Its other members are Canada and Poland.

Mrs. Gandhi proposed that the commission supervise the truce while the conference was in session. She indicated she felt the commission should be strengthened and said India would be willing to accept "whatever additional responsibility this might entail."

The United States did not sign the 1954 Geneva accords but has indicated that it considers them a basis for negotiations. President Johnson and other administration officials have said the United States is ready for unconditional peace talks at any time but have also added that as long as North Viet Nam persists in its aggression against South Viet Nam, the United States will keep on fighting.

North Viet Nam has insisted that withdrawal of foreign troops precede any peace negotiations and that the Viet Cong guerrillas in the South be given a seat at any negotiations. The United States opposes both demands, although it is willing for Viet Cong representatives to attend as part of the North Vietnamese delegation.

North Viet Nam's news agency announced that Jean Sainteny, a veteran of French government service in Viet Nam, had conferred in Hanoi with President Ho Chi Minh. Although on a private trip, Sainteny is believed investigating the possibilities of a settlement of the war.

Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson told the House of Commons in Ottawa he felt it would be difficult to reconvene the Geneva conference under the conditions suggested by Mrs. Gandhi.

British Prime Minister Harold Wilson joined Mrs. Gandhi in calling for a Geneva conference and a Viet Nam truce. Wilson goes to Moscow July 16-18 to talk with Soviet leaders and is scheduled to visit President Johnson in Washington later in the month.

British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart said Wilson "will impress on the Soviet government our view that negotiations are urgently needed" and that as cochairmen of the 1954 Geneva conference the two nations have an obligation to promote peace talks.

Wilson's government Thursday night won support by a vote of 299-230 in the House of Commons for a motion restating its general line of promoting peace talks. Wilson had come under criticism from the left for supporting the United States in Viet Nam at all and from the right for refusing to support the bombing of the fuel depots at Hanoi and Haiphong.

County Prepares For Disposal Of Obsolete Records

LISBON — Nineteen large cartons of time sheet records from the Columbiana County engineer's department will be disposed of pending state approval.

The County Records Commission met Thursday at the Courthouse and agreed to ask all department heads to compile a disposal list of old and obsolete records.

Engineer John Ursu, a member of the commission, was given permission to dispose of payroll time records going back to 1922 subject to legal requirements.

Once the commission approves a disposal list, the disposal action must be publicly advertised. A copy of the disposal list then goes to the state auditor. If he approves, the Ohio Historical Society gets a copy to see if there is anything it wants.

Commission members are Judge Louis Tobin of Probate Court, Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey, Auditor Kenneth Bell, recorder John P. Wargo, Ursu and County Commissioner R. Max Gard, chairman.

Rhodes Believes Cincinnati In Forefront For '68 Parley

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Governor of Ohio was due back at his Statehouse desk today after leaving Los Angeles Thursday night with the impression he had left an impression on the nation's 49 other state governors.

Gov. James A. Rhodes felt he had put Cincinnati in the forefront as a potential site of the 1968 National Governors' Conference; had helped spur the 13-state midwest governors group to stepped-up cooperative efforts; had seen an "excellent" resolution adopted backing U.S. Policy in Viet Nam.

As usual, Rhodes parried any intimations he might be interested in national Republican politics and stuck to his role as missionary for his "Wonderful World of Ohio."

Rhodes said he believed the possibilities very good for winning the conference two years hence for Cincinnati—Which would be quite a coup since it was held in Ohio (Cleveland) as recently as 1964.

As far as he knew Thursday night, Rhodes said, "we have no competition for it (the 1968 meeting) as yet."

The Ohio governor said there was "excellent response" from his midwestern colleagues to some of his and his aides' ideas for advancing mutual causes.

He said plans are for department directors of the various midwest states to confer periodically on their specific areas of interest—agriculture, welfare, natural resources, water pollution, and so on.

Rhodes also indicated satisfaction with the governors resolution calling for support of U.S. commitments in Viet Nam.

Army Grants Sanction

Junior ROTC Program Approved At High School

The Department of Defense has approved establishment of a Junior Reserve Officers Training Corps program at East Liverpool High School, effective with the 1966-67 term, the Board of Education was advised late Thursday afternoon by Army authorities.

Postmaster Samuel Brown, a member of the board who initiated the movement for an ROTC program, said the word of the approval was received by telephone from Maj. Roscoe Black of the staff of the 1st Army at Ft. George G. Meade, Md.

The East Liverpool unit will be one of 45 established in the entire nation, the major said. He gave school authorities bare details of the new program in his telephone conversation, but said more data will be forwarded shortly.

East Liverpool will be authorized the services of one retired officer and two retired enlisted men, if necessary, to serve as instructors, Maj. Black said.

School authorities have been working with federal government and military officials for several months in negotiations for the establishment of the program.

It would cover all four years of high school — freshman through senior. Students enrolled in the training would be uniformed at the government expense and furnished weapons such as Model 1903 Springfield rifles, 22-caliber rifles and 45-caliber semi-automatic pistols for drill and target practice.

The program here would be in with an area college or university with an ROTC program, most likely Youngstown University or Kent State University. A Youngstown University representative already has consulted with local school authorities about the program.

A college ROTC graduate is eligible for a commission in the armed forces upon completion of the course. Junior ROTC graduates have the advantage of prior training should they enroll in college ROTC program or enter the armed forces, Brown pointed out.

If the student enters a college ROTC unit, he is permitted to skip the first year of training — already covered in the junior program — and begin immediately on second-year training.

If he enters the armed forces after completing high school training, he already possesses most of the rudimentary military skills taught recruits in basic training, so he stands a good chance of being named immediately as an acting corporal or sergeant, Brown added.

Brown is a lieutenant colonel in the Army Reserve. He serves in the Adjutant General's Department.

County Engineer Will Get Truck

LISBON — The Columbiana Motor Co. of Columbiana will furnish a 1966 Chevrolet half-ton pickup truck for the Columbiana County engineer for $1,498.

County commissioners Thursday received 13 other proposals ranging from $1,520 for a Chevrolet to $1,785 for a Dodge. Ford dealers also bid.

Commissioners approved the dedication of a plot of Spring Valley Lake allotment — a 10.4-acre layout of 19 lots and a private road in the northeast quarter of section 25, West Township. The owners are Carl Richardson, president, and Richard Wadsworth, secretary.

Travel of $18.40 was allowed Joseph Reed, Soldiers Relief Commission service officer, to take a veteran to Oakland Veterans Hospital, Pittsburgh.

Ohio Traffic Mishaps Take 7 More Lives

By The Associated Press

A scientist and a motorcycle rider are among the latest victims of highway traffic accidents in Ohio.

The latest victims include: Brandon Hooper, 19, Akron; Gerald T. Johnston, 17, Salineville, Columbiana County; Henry W. K. Seeler, 52, Dayton.

Ralph R. Sanders, 65, Plain City.

Phillip Rudasill, 2, Kenton; Robert Hall, 58, Monroe, Mich.

Arnold D. White, 26, Centerville, Knox County.

Hooper died in Akron General Hospital Thursday night of injuries received May 28 when his motorcycle hit a utility pole in Akron.

Johnston was driving a truck on Ohio 644 in Columbiana County Thursday night when it crashed at high speed.

Seeler, a scientist at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base was driving in Green County east of Dayton Thursday when an oncoming car swerved into a ditch, then veered back onto the road and into his auto. Margaret Haffer, 49, of Dayton, the other driver, was injured.

Sanders was attempting to pass other vehicles Thursday, the Highway Patrol said, when his pickup truck rounded a corner on Ohio 161 at Killeville, Madison County, and slammed into a freight train.

The Rudasill boy was killed in the collision Thursday of the auto driven by his father, Donald, and another car in Kenton.

Hall evidently fell asleep driving on the Ohio Turnpike early Tuesday and his auto rammed the rear of a tractor-trailer, the Highway Patrol said. He died Thursday in a Warren hospital where his son, Preston, 42, was listed in poor condition and another son, Harold 24, was treated and released.

Injuries received in a two-truck collision on U. S. 36 a mile west of Delaware June 28 were fatal in a Columbus hospital Thursday to White.

WINTHROP, Mass. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Swansburg Jr. of Winthrop, Mass., were sure that the baby they were expecting this week would be a boy.

They already had two sons. In fact, it had been 78 years since the last daughter was born to a Swansburg, and that one was the girl half of boy-girl twins.

Mrs. Swansburg gave birth to twin girls on Wednesday.

Camp Obtains An 'A' Rating

LISBON — National Boy Scout camp inspectors gave an "A" rating Thursday to Camp Twin Spruce on Leesville Lake, summer camping grounds of Columbiana Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Inspectors James Beam of Mt. Vernon, vice chairman of Region 4, and Charles Whitcomb of Cincinnati, deputy regional Scout executive, gave Twin Spruce a grade of 99—the highest it has had.

Bennett D. Taylor Jr., council executive, said only a shortage of three or four adults on the central staff kept Twin Spruce from making the "100 par" against which Scout camps are measured.

He said Beam praised the camp program, facilities and record-keeping. A record 120 boys are in camp this week.

Scheduled to move in Sunday for one week are approximately 110 boys from Lisbon Troop 95, Salem 3, Winona 88, Leetonia 13, Hanoverston 52, Homeworth 147 and Greenford 116 from Mahoning county.

Parents and friends are invited to the visitors' night campfire program Wednesday.

Airlines

representatives of 13 local service airlines, supplemental airlines that specialize in charter operations and seven trunk airlines not threatened with a strike.

CAB transportation specialists worked until late in the night to find possible means of handling the traffic normally served by the five airlines' 5,000 daily flights.

"No decision was reached," a CAB spokesman said, but it was likely that flights would be re-routed and temporary new route authority granted.

Negotiations between the union and the airlines broke off at midday Thursday and Assistant Secretary of Labor James Reynolds announced there would be a strike.

At Byron's request, Reynolds called for negotiations to resume at 10 a.m. EDT Saturday.

Shortly after the talks collapsed, the chairman of a presidential panel that had made recommendations to settle the dispute asked that the strike be postponed for two weeks for further mediation.

The chairman, Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said in a statement that "this is one case in which there is no possible justification for the union to strike."

"This union cannot justify holding a strike gun at the head of its government in this hour of international crisis," he said.

The union seeks wage increases totaling 53 cents an hour over a three-year period. The airlines offered 30 cents an hour and the presidential panel headed by Morse had recommended raises up to 48 cents an hour. The current hourly wage is $3.52.

The chairman of the airline negotiating committee, William J. Curtin, said in a prepared statement after negotiations broke down that "the union blew up the negotiations with a fantastic demand for 75 per cent more than the presidential emergency board recommended."

He said that while the emergency board's recommendations, if adopted, would have cost the airlines $76 million in added costs, the union proposal would cost $114 million and was therefore unacceptable.

The union also asked that vacation periods be liberalized to four weeks after 15 years instead of after 20, and that Good Friday be added as an eighth annual holiday.

The union said it would drop demands that the work week be reduced from 40 hours to 37½ hours, and that overtime pay rates be increased.

It demanded, however, that the airlines bear the entire cost of pension plans and of health and welfare plans, and that the latter be liberalized to provide full coverage for employees and dependents.

Trustees Set $33,000 For 1967 Budget

A budget of $33,000 has been approved tentatively by Liverpool Township trustees for 1967, an increase of some $2,900 over 1966.

The budget has been referred to the Columbiana County Budget Commission for approval.

Members of the trustees are scheduled to attend the annual Ohio Township Trustees and Clerks Association summer convention at Cincinnati Aug. 3-6.

The road crew of the township is working on the chipping program in the LaCroft area, and will start in the eastern part of the township next week.

The trustees will meet July 15 at the Little Building.

or casualties, the spokesman said.

On Saturday, Navy planes attacked and sank three North Vietnamese torpedo boats after they fired on the planes, and 19 sailors were captured.

Two more Navy planes attacked two torpedo boats on Tuesday. One of the planes was shot down, and there was no report of any damage to the boats.

On the basis of pilots' reports after the raid on the Haiphong oil depot Thursday, the Navy said the raiders destroyed 70 per cent of the tanks and other facilities still standing after the initial raid on June 29.

After the first attack, officials reported that 80 per cent of the depot — North Viet Nam's major oil gateway — lay in ruins. So presumably 94 per cent of the installation has been wrecked.

U. S. officials said that perhaps more significant than the destruction of storage tanks was the razing of the two pumping stations. They said they were the only ones available at North Viet Nam's chief port to pump oil from tankers in the harbor.

The installation two miles from downtown Haiphong handled 95 per cent of North Viet Nam's oil, all of which must be imported. Most of the oil is believed to come from the Soviet Union.

For the past month U. S. planes have been hammering at North Viet Nam's 12 main oil centers in an attempt to deprive the Communists of fuel for their supply convoys to the South and to make their war effort more costly.

On his arrival in Honolulu Thursday night from a conference with President Johnson in Texas, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said the Haiphong raid was aimed at the destruction of the pumping facilities.

De Gaulle Will Circle Globe On A-Test Visit

Calisthenics For Non-Swimmers

The best thing about swimming is the water. The resistance offered by the water makes swimming a toning marvel. Ah yes, but non-swimmers can benefit too.

Exercising in the water lets you cool off, slim down and tone up, which adds up to sheer delight. But it's more than that, for buoyed up by the water, you are free to move. You're no longer earth bound.

FOR EXAMPLE: You would like to tone those hard to reach inner thighline muscles. Stand waist high in the water, with back against the pool side. Now extend legs straight out and from this buoyant position execute a scissors action, whipping legs from side to side, under and over. The water not only offers resistance which enhances the toning, but frees you from this side-to-side action.

Try w-a-l-k-i-n-g in water about waist high, taking long strides. That's beautiful leg exercise. Then execute a sideward stride, take a wide side step, bring other leg through the water, and continue across the shallow end of the pool. Reverse the direction.

To tone abdominal and hip muscles: Facing the side of the pool, hold on to the edge and stretch out to full extension in the water. Bring one leg through the water to touch pool side and swing back through the water. Repeat with the opposite leg. In the water it is easy to get past the 45 degree angle that brings the big hip muscles into action.

Flabby arm muscles? In the water it's fairly easy to tone the triceps muscles that flank the backs of the upper arms. With fat or thin arms, when those muscles lose their grip of youth, they sag sadly. Gravity wins.

IN A POOL, stand with back against side-wall of pool. Slide down a bit so as to have water about chest level. In a lake or the ocean, sit in the water. Hold arms out at side, palms facing forward. Against the resistance of the water, bring arms together, touching palms. Then turn hands, putting backs of hands together, and push back to beginning position, arms at shoulder level. Start with 20 counts and increase to 50 or 100. You'll be glad you did! Bring on the sleeveless dresses.

Water calisthenics do not burn calories with the speed of actual swimming in which you cut through the water with vigorous strokes. Even so, calisthenics mean beauty plus strength. With water calisthenics, you'll be ever so pleased with the way you look and feel, provided you practice regularly. One young lady slimmed a half inch off her ankles by sitting on the dock and swimming her feet back and forth through the water. Bring one leg through

Summer Reading Important To Children

When we seek help for our child lagging at school, we naturally look for the best we can find. It may be a teacher especially trained for such work or a clinic. But sometimes effective help may be available from a person not labeled a specialist.

SOMETIMES a classmate in high school proves an excellent tutor in a particular subject. Some years ago I learned of a neighbor high school boy doing better than average work at school but lagging sadly in chemistry. In talking to this boy about his problem, I learned that he greatly admired a classmate who excelled in chemistry.

At my suggestion a plan was worked out whereby the student was helped by his classmate in chemistry during the summer. He returned to school in the fall and made a high score in an examination on the subject. Here, of course, the classmate-tutor not only was esteemed by the classmate he helped but admired for his skill in the subject.

In college, certain excellent students often prove skillful tutors of classmates, especially in certain fraternity or sorority groups. Alert teachers in high school and college, recognizing average or high general learning ability in a student lagging in a particular subject, have rare opportunities at causing a special laggard to find effective help from a classmate. Often the helping student knows more about the learning problems facing his classmate than his regular instructor knows.

My bulletins "Home Helps in Reading, I & II, Spelling, Arithmetic, & Handwriting" and "Helping Child with Lessons at Home" may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

motivated this child to strive for grades again, I would try to find how some parents who had limited formal education did so well at helping children learn from books. As a result, I might gain added insights into how children learn and get some useful hints on how to improve my own skill as a teacher.

Cloud Says Ohio Might Consider State Income Tax

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—State Auditor Roger Cloud says a state income tax might be considered in Ohio if Congress decides to allow individuals or corporations to apply 40 per cent of state income tax payments to federal income tax liabilities.

Under such a system, Cloud said Thursday, "any state would be at a disadvantage if it did not have its own state income tax."

He added that if such a tax were enacted, clarification would be needed of a constitutional provision that half the tax's revenues must be returned to local political subdivisions.

However, Cloud told a meeting of the Municipal Finance Officers' Association here that while "major changes in public programs and some revenue sources may occur, there was little indication that the traditional areas of revenue will not continue to be protected for local government."

Assembly Eyed To Make Up $20 Million School Deficit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The next legislature will be asked to make up an expected $20 million deficit for public school operation and bus transportation, Deputy Finance Director Howard Collier said today.

But he assured local boards they could count on full payment of the state's share for school bus purchases under Ohio's new centralized pricing system.

Collier said a carefully hoarded $5.4 million is available for subsidies averaging 60 per cent of local outlay for buses as soon as ceiling prices are determined by the State Education Department.

John Parsons, state school transportation chief, said ceilings to determine bus subsidies probably would be set by Monday on the basis of bids received from chassis and body makers.

About 900 buses are expected to be purchased by 300 districts under the new system, Parsons said. He explained that once ceiling prices are set, school boards can go ahead with purchases or take bids on their own if they believe they can get lower prices or want special equipment.

Collier said controlling board members have agreed to release funds for bus purchase subsidies at next Thursday's meeting.

He attributed an anticipated deficit in school foundation subsidies to these developments:

—An increase in the number of pupils.

—Expenditures for special and vocational education programs.

—More professional employees than originally estimated.

—Failure of the local tax base to expand as fast as anticipated. But Collier said the deficit has been taken into account in the budget for the current book-keeping year and that the next legislature will be asked to appropriate funds to cover the additional expense.

Hints from Heloise

- By Heloise Cruse -

Dear Heloise: Recently, after a long illness, when I was allowed to get up, I checked my home to find the job that could be done in the hour I was out of bed each day.

My white porcelain over was it.

The oven was warm from heating breakfast rolls. I sprayed it thoroughly with one of the new spray cleaners — remembering to spray once, then reverse the racks to upside down, and spray again.

While the spray was working, I moved my kitchen stool near the oven, filled my cleaning bucket with warm, soapy water, and put it on top of the stool, complete with sponge.

I put my stove drip pans on the oven rack and sprayed again lightly.

I had a cup of coffee, then wiped the gunky mess off with paper toweling. I washed and rinsed the oven and racks and dried them with paper towels.

This may use a few paper towels, but we find them less expensive than a "Mother's time."

The oven looked like new.

MARY

DEAR HELOISE: When I go up on the sundeck in the summer, there is no water hose handy, so I take along a plastic squirt bottle of water to keep me cool while getting a tan!

GENNY JOHNSON.

DEAR HELOISE: What in the name of common sense, and comfort ever became of that lovely old custom of carrying a parasol on hot, sunny days?

Don't women realize what delight they might have walking under that blessed protection of a sunshade rather than melting under the merciless, sweltering sun.

Not to mention the added attraction of the pretty picture made by modern, gorgeous-hued umbrellas.

And often medical men tell us that some skin problems are caused by too much strong sunlight.

If you would give us the go-ahead, I'm sure many timid women would adopt your opinion. What is your opinion?

PARASOL GAL.

I'm for you, gal, all the way. Know the difference in the temperature on a thermometer laid out in the sunlight and in the shade near the same spot? Most amazing.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: To prevent small children from locking themselves in the bathroom, drape a towel over the top of the bathroom door.

ELSIE MOCKLER.

DEAR HELOISE: I take a rectangular plastic foam sponge and make a slit in one end—then insert the end of a yardstick into the slit, and it's easy to wash and clean hard-to-get-into spaces (where I need a long handle).

MRS. BOB T. BRIGGS.

DEAR HELOISE: We don't like crumbs when we get near the bottom of a box of dry cereal.

When there is about a forth of a box of cereal left, I place a clean net produce bag over a bowl and pour the cereal on it. The pieces left on the net are just right for eating.

MARIAN BIRD.

I hope you don't waste the crumbs that sift through — they're wonderful for topping casseroles, etc.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When going through my closet the other day, I found an old dress with big shoulder pads in it. I ripped a pad from the dress and now keep it on the end of my ironing board.

The pad is wonderful to tuck inside the shoulder of a dress or child's garment when ironing.

I don't know how I ever got along without it.

Beaver Maps Coming Terms For Special School Project

Final plans are being made for the fall and winter terms of the Tiny Tot Pre-School Day care program of the Beaver County Retarded Children's Chapter.

The sessions again will be conducted at the Third Ward School in Monaca.

Twenty - seven children 3 to 6 years old have been tested in conjunction with the special pupil services of the County Board of Education.

A makeup day for those unable to attend the tests held this month will be conducted late in August.

The tests are designed to determine which of those youngsters currently enrolled in the Tiny Tot program are ready for special education in the public school system and are intended to assist the Tiny Tot staff in planning for those youngsters who are coming into the program for the first time or who will be returning in the fall.

Mrs. Harry Fry of Beaver Falls, head teacher, and Mrs. Robert Stolz of Beaver, assistant, were on hand at the school to consult with parents of the children being tested. This preschool program for mentally-retarded youngsters has grown in public acceptance over the last several years.

Interested parents are requested to contact the Beaver County Chapter, Pennsylvania Association for Retarded Children, at 775-7741, Kenneth Win-

Ohio's 37th Infantry Unit Launches Summer Training

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's 37th Infantry Division, the state's largest military reserve organization, begins its annual "march" to Michigan tonight and Saturday for two weeks of summer training.

The National Guard division's 7,000 members will travel almost entirely in military convoys from 66 home stations throughout the state, through northwest Ohio to Camp Grayling, Mich.

The units will start at various times to keep the comparatively slow-moving convoys from interfering with traffic as much as possible. Convoys average 35 to 40 miles an hour and the grueling trip north takes as much as 18 hours for some of the southern Ohio units.

This will be the seventh straight year the Ohioans have held their field training exercise at sprawling Camp Grayling, 250 miles north of Toledo. In the tall pine country of north-central Michigan, Camp Grayling offers virtually any type terrain a military unit needs for training and its 136,000 acres is enough to prove the maneuverability a division needs.

The 37th will be its smallest in years for this year's training.

Missing will be its former 3rd Brigade and some of its aviation units, now a part of the nation's Select Reserve Force.

Also missing will be some vehicles and other equipment the division gave up to bring the "SRF" units up to 100 per cent authorized strength under the new priority set-up. The division itself is rated a lower priority than the Select Force.

Again this summer, the training will center on small basic units—the squad and platoon in the case of infantry units.

A highlight of the encampment will be the annual governor's review, closing out the first week of training. Gov. James A. Rhodes is expected to review the division for the fourth straight year.

The restored stagecoach tavern one block south of the square is open from 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 p. m. Fridays and 2 to 5 p. m. Sundays during the summer.

Members of the Business and Professional Women's Club will be hostesses this evening and Sunday.

Cincinnati Area Woman Attacked; Man In Custody

CINCINNATI (AP)—A Fairmount area housewife was attacked by a stranger Thursday night and police said early today had a man in custody.

The woman, Mrs. Betty Ruth Ross, 28, managed to bite the right hand of the man who looped a wire around her neck in the basement of her home. The assailant then fled.

Police threw out a dragnet around the house and two hours later arrested a 23-year-old Negro about 10 blocks from the Ross home. News of the attack aroused residents of the area and several of them chased the suspect before he was arrested.

No charges were immediately filed.

The man had a bloody mark on his right knuckle, but told police he had hurt his hand earlier in the day.

Mrs. Ross' assailant tried to choke her with a piece of wire when she went into the basement of her home. Some details of the attempt recalled the technique of the strangler blamed by police for three rape-slayings in the last seven months.

All of the murder victims were women in their 50s.

June's Fire Loss Totaled $72,000

The fire loss in East Liverpool totaled $72,000 during June, according to a report issued today by Fire Chief Alfred VanDyne.

The figure was high because of the blaze which damaged the Bloor Pharmacy stockroom on E. 5th St.

The department answered 18 calls during the month, the chief said. In addition to the drugstore blaze, two were in dwellings, seven in cars and one each in a hot water tank, clothes drier and oil furnace.

Firemen also answered three emergency calls, one false alarm and flushed away gasoline from a car.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I just overheard a telephone conversation which disturbed me. I'm not an eavesdropper and our son, who is in the 7th grade, made no attempt to keep his comments private.

In a 10-minute phone call with a friend, Phillip made negative comments about six people. I counted them. I believe I know why Phillip is like this.

The minute his father gets into the car he begins to criticize every driver who passes him. He grumbles about the condition of the streets, the attitude of the police officer. He finds fault with the car and cusses out the manufacturer.

Every time we leave church he criticizes the pastor, runs down the choir and has a few knocks for the family seated ahead of us.

Is it possible that Phillip has picked up his critical attitude from his father?—MIGRAINE.

Dear Migraire: Not only is it possible, it's extremely likely.

Children are imitators. They take on the values, concepts, character traits and, yes—even the mannerisms—of their parents.

Ideas and attitudes are contagious. They are caught—not taught. Parents always should be sharply aware that they are setting examples for their children every living minute of the day. Many of the unattractive qualities that parents dislike in their children are the very ones their children learned from them.

Envious Mother

Dear Ann: I have a married daughter who calls her mother-in-law "Mother" and her father-in-law "Daddy." She calls me "Mom."

My husband died a few years ago and it tears me up when I hear my daughter call her father-in-law "Daddy." I feel that "Daddy" is a very special name and that it should be reserved only for a blood father. Also, every time I hear my daughter call her mother-in-law "Mother" I get a pain in my heart. I'm her mother, not that other woman.

Don't you feel that out of respect for me and the memory of her blood father, my daughters should call her in-laws "Mother and Daddy Jones"?—SHOVED INTO THE BACK-GROUND.

Dear Shoved: It's apparent that you are hotly competitive with your daughter's in-laws and I hope you will change your tune before your daughter stops calling you, period. The manner in which married children address their in-laws is a fairly good clue as to how they feel about them. Obviously, your daughter is fond of hers and you should be pleased—not envious.

Heed Husband

Dear Ann: Our neighbor's 14-year-old daughter is keeping company with a 28-year-old man. The girl's mother is extremely proud of the courtship and talks about it constantly.

The man has never been married and is notorious for his affairs with women of poor reputation. Will you tell me, please, what would a 28-year-old man talk to a 14-year-old girl about?

My husband says, "Mind your own business," but I'd like to tell the girl's mother that she is making a big mistake. What do you say?—N.C. READER.

Dear Reader: Your husband gave you excellent advice. Take it.

Women who encourage their young daughters to go with older men are trying to relieve their own girlhood. This is a sick thing and you cannot help her. She needs therapy.

As for your "talk" question—I doubt that he is interested in her conversation.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hit-Skip Auto Blamed For Damage To Fence

A West End housewife complained to police Thursday that a hit-skip auto damaged a wire fence at her home.

The damage was reported shortly before noon by Mrs. Raymond Fultz of 1010 Church St.

Mrs. Fultz said she was inside the home when she heard a crash. Going outside to investigate, she saw a red convertible sports car leaving the scene and assumed it was the vehicle responsible for the damage, she said.

Hookstown Area Captain Receives Medal For Duty

An area resident has received the Bronze Star Medal for meritorious service in Viet Nam. He is Capt. Carl L. Ross, 30, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Ross of Hookstown R. D. 1.

Ross was cited for "his untiring efforts and professional ability." The citation, which was presented during ceremonies last month, went on to say: "The energetic application of his extensive knowledge has materially contributed to the efforts of the United States' mission in the Republic of Viet Nam to assist that country in ridding itself of the Communist threat to freedom."

Capt. Ross and his wife, Dorothy, reside at the Langley Air Force base, Hampton, Va.

Man Tried Crime To Dodge Draft: Could Face Duty

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—A young married man who tried to beat the draft the hard way—by committing a crime—may wind up in the armed forces anyway.

"I don't know whether I should hit you with the maximum penalty or whether I should take it easy so you'll be drafted as soon as possible," Municipal Court Judge Charles Z. Smith told Clifford Jones, 19, Thursday.

Jones pleaded guilty to stealing a car radio. He left a work badge bearing his name in the car "so I'd be caught," he said.

"I expect to be drafted soon and I wanted to get a criminal deferment," Jones told the judge.

The case was continued for two weeks.

Lima Case Recalled . . .

With an investigation into alleged infractions of basketball and football practice regulations to be made here in August by the Ohio High School Athletic Association, the case of Lima Shawnee High School comes to mind.

The OHSAA investigated the Lima school and about nine months ago placed it on a two-year probation, the first two-year penalty ever handed down by the OHSAA.

Although several infractions were alleged, the only charge the OHSAA found that held water was that the basketball team had been practicing out of season. The OHSAA investigations found that a basketball had been painted white to resemble a volleyball, but that basketball actually was being played.

Our source at Lima said that other charges were made against Shawnee, but no affidavits were signed and nothing further could be proven.

The OHSAA made several recommendations and expected the school to adhere to the rules or an immediate suspension would follow.

Under probation, a school is still permitted to compete the same as any other school, but a suspension means a school cannot compete in the sport for which it was suspended.

Predictions Looking Good . . .

IT'S ALMOST halftime of the 1966 baseball season and the predictions made in this column back on April 8 are looking better with every whiff of the bat.

The pros will take the all-star break next week and Baltimore, our choice in the American League, had a comfortable eight-game lead at this writing.

Although ridiculed by some local fans for our selection of Pittsburgh to take all the marbles in the National League, the hard-hitting Bucs are in second place only 2½ games off the league-leading San Francisco Giants.

The Bucs currently boast one of the best hitting teams in the majors and with any kind of pitching could take the race down to the wire. However, the pitching the last two weeks with the exception of Woody Fryman, has been nothing to write home about.

We picked Minnesota to finish in second place but the Twins are currently struggling to stay in the first division. They still could get up and go at any time, however.

Behind Pittsburgh, we tabbed Los Angeles to finish second and the Dodgers are currently third. We had Cincinnati in third place, with San Francisco fourth.

Fraser On Geneva Staff . . .

FORMER South Side (Pa.) and Geneva College star athlete, Dan M. Fraser, will return this fall to Geneva to teach and coach, according to an announcement made today by athletic director Clifford J. Aultman.

Fraser has been appointed as instructor in Physical Education, assistant football coach, and head baseball coach. He will also assist in the intramural and recreational programs in addition to teaching some sections of the required course in Physical Education for men.

A 1964 Business Administration and Education graduate of Geneva, Fraser starred at quarterback and end on the gridiron and was an outstanding third baseman on the diamond. He professionally played minor league baseball in the Houston Astro organization.

Fraser is currently attending Eastern Michigan University, Upsalanti, Mich., where he is taking graduate work in Physical Education.

He spent the past school year at Flat Rock High School, Flat Rock, Mich., where he taught bookkeeping and general business and served as assistant football and basketball coach.

Fraser previously taught United States History and World History at South Side High School and also served as assistant football and basketball coach.

The new Geneva staff member holds membership in the Pennsylvania State, National, Michigan, and Flat Rock Education Associations.

He is married to the former Mary Matchett of New Brighton, and they have a four-year-old child, Kristin Cary.

Fraser will replace Pete Mazzaferro who has resigned to become instructor of Physical Education and assistant to the head football coach at Bridgewater State College, Bridgewater, Mass.

This 'n That In Sports . . .

A 15-YEAR-OLD freshman had timers doing a double take last Monday at Kent State University when he turned in a 100-yard dash in 9.5 seconds.

Walter Henderson, who will be a sophomore this fall at Canton McKinley, turned in the amazing time in the meet sponsored by the United States track and field federation and the Kent Jaycees.

His coach Bob Evans knew he had something special in Henderson because he had clocked him in 9.7 in a practice sprint.

The 6-foot, 165-pounder concentrates on track only and does not play football or basketball. He was termed by his coaches the best track prospect ever seen at McKinley.

Kenny Cunningham, the ex-Potter and Cincinnati U. cager, has accepted an assistant basketball coaching job at Kent Roosevelt High School.

Last season he served on the Kent State coaching staff and handled scouting chores and helped out with the freshmen team.

Potters Bank Capture 2nd Half Laurels

Potters Bank and Trust wrapped up the second half title in the Minor League Thursday after a 22-15 rout of Rogers Drive-In.

Potters will meet Pusateri's, winner of the first half, in a playoff sometime next week.

Adamson tripled and singled, drove in three runs and scored four to lead the Potters attack.

John Tice was the winning pitcher and Russell was the loser. Ralph Shaw homered and tripled for Rogers and Dray smacked a grand slam homer in a losing cause.

In other games, Tri-State Appliance topped First National 17-9 with Jordan the winning pitcher. Randy Bosworth and Mike Mikita paced the winners.

T. S. & T. outlasted Potters Savings, 22-14. Doug Talkington picked up the win and Dyke was the loser. Bill Sayers clubbed two home runs while Dean Ward and Talkington connected.

Bob Lewis, Washington, D.C. junior, averaged 27.4 points a game for North Carolina's basketball team last season.

Giants' Rally Nips Reds Drysdale Wins Own Contest; Bucs Fall

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Good hit, no throw.

That's the story of Don Drysdale's latest effort, but the hitting overcame the throwing and enabled Drysdale and the Los Angeles Dodgers to overcome Atlanta 3-2 Thursday night.

Drysdale, who has had numerous pitching problems this season, added some more to his list in the first 4½ innings against the Braves, throwing wild twice and hitting a batter once. In the last four innings, though, the hitting took over as he rapped singles three times.

The big right-hander's difficulties started in the third inning with two Braves on base and two out. Drysdale tried to pick Frank Bolling off second, but the throw went wide and the Braves had two runners in scoring position.

Drysdale then hit Mack Jones with a pitch, loading the bases, before Hank Aaron cracked a two-run single.

The Dodgers' onetime ace uncorked another wild pickoff throw with a man on and two out in the fifth, but this time he pitched out of it.

Drysdale the hitter then took over. He led off the bottom of the fifth, with a single and reached second, then led off the seventh with a single and reached third. But Los Angeles didn't get a run either time.

He persisted, though, and one of his hits finally produced a run. With the game tied 2-2, Wes Parker at third and two out in the eighth inning, Drysdale grounded to short and beat it out for a run-scoring single.

In other National League games Thursday, San Francisco outslugged Cincinnati 7-5, Chicago edged Pittsburgh 5-4 and New York topped Philadelphia 9-6.

Stargell Named To Squad

10 Added To Complete NL All-Stars

CINCINNATI (AP) — The National League's 25-man All-Star squad was completed today with the selection of 10 more players, including Los Angeles' Jim Lefebvre to replace Houston's injured Joe Morgan as the starting second baseman.

The selections were made by Dodger Manager Walter Alston, who picked Felipe Alou of Atlanta as a reserve first baseman although he received votes as an outfielder in the players' poll. Alston will manage the Nationals in the game Tuesday at St. Louis.

Alston named outfielders Willie Stargell of Pittsburgh, Curt Flood of St. Louis and Richie

Allen of Philadelphia to back up the starting outfield of Hank Aaron of Atlanta, Willie Mays of San Francisco and Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh.

Additional players selected were shortstop Maury Wills of Los Angeles, second baseman Ron Hunt of New York and third baseman Jim Ray Hart of San Francisco, and catchers Tom Haller of the Giants and Tim McCarver of the Cardinals.

The starting fielders and pitchers were announced earlier.

Lefebvre, Haller, Hart and McCarver will be making their first All-Star appearances.

Morgan was the first choice in the voting for the starting team by players, manager and coaches, but broke his right kneecap and is still out of action. Lefebvre was the second choice.

Alston passed over Bill White of Philadelphia in naming Alou to back up starting first baseman Willie McCovey of San Francisco. White was second in voting to McCovey. In the players' poll, Alou was sixth in the balloting for outfielders with 34 votes. He also has played first for Atlanta.

Tradition has been that All-Star managers select the substitutes who were second in voting. But Alston made another exception, besides Alou, in choosing Hunt for second base. Hunt was sixth in the players' balloting.

Bill Mazeroski of Pittsburgh was third behind Morgan and Lefebvre.

Wills will be making his fifth appearance on the All-star team. The Dodgers base-stealing artist was the starting shortstop last year.

Stargell made the squad for the third time. Allen, Alou, Flood and Hunt will be making their second appearances.

The completed roster gives San Francisco six All-Star representatives, the most of any National club. Atlanta, St. Louis, Los Angeles and Pittsburgh have three each; Philadelphia and Cincinnati, two each, and New York, Chicago and Houston, one each.

game against 11 losses, left for a pinch runner after his third hit. He allowed five hits in eight innings, and Phil Regan stopped Atlanta in the ninth. Maury Wills had a run-producing single for the Dodgers while Jim Lefebvre contributed a sacrifice fly.

Cincinnati grabbed a 5-0 lead over San Francisco, but the Giants roared back on two-run homers by Tito Fuentes, Willie Mays and Cap Peterson. Tom Haller added a bases-empty homer for the Giants while Leo Cardenas connected with two on for the Reds.

New York blew a five-run lead, saw Philadelphia tie the game 6-6 on Bob Uecker's eighth-inning homer, but then won it with three runs in the ninth. Al Luplow doubled in the tie-breaking run for the Mets, and Larry Elliot's double brought in two more runs.

Pittsburgh led Chicago 3-0, but the Cubs came from behind, too. A three-run rally in the seventh gave them a 5-3 margin. Ernie Banks doubled in the first run, and Byron Browne singled across the second and scored the third on Randy Hundley's sacrifice fly.

Mickey 'Adjusts' Just In Time To Give Yanks Nod

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Mickey Mantle, who has trouble adjusting to Yankee Stadium after returning from a road trip, adjusted just in time to save the Yankees from further embarrassment.

"I never like coming back here," Mantle said after New York defeated Boston 5-2 Thursday night. "It's tough adjusting to this park. You always try to pull the ball."

Try or not to pull the ball, that's exactly what Mantle did with two out in the ninth inning, and it sailed into the right-field seats for a three-run homer.

The blast, only Mantle's second hit in 18 at bats since returning to New York July 4 after a road trip in which he hit eight homers in six games, kept the last-place Red Sox from sweeping the four-game series.

This year, for the first time since 1953 Mantle was not named to the American League All-Star team, but he has no regrets.

"I can use the rest," he said. "Those other guys deserve it more. I just had that one hot week."

In the only other AL action, the Chicago White Sox defeated Washington 8-5 and Detroit edged Minnesota 4-3.

Going into the bottom of the ninth at Yankee Stadium, the Red Sox had a 2-0 lead, built when Tony Conigliaro scored on a force out in the fourth and singled home a run in the ninth.

Then after one out, Rolie Sheldon walked two Yankees and Don McMahon came in to pitch. Pinch hitter Jake Gibbs singled home a run and moved the other runner to third. Tom Tresh followed with a sacrifice fly to tie it. Then after Bobby Richardson singled, Mantle unloaded his 16th homer of the season.

Bill Freehan singled in the sixth and scored on a ground out as Detroit ended a five-game losing streak and snapped a three-game winning string for the Twins.

Al Kaline hit a two-run homer, his 18th, and Willie Horton doubled home a run for the Tigers. Rich Rollins hit his sixth homer and Harmon Killebrew belted his 16th and doubled home another run for the Twins.

The White Sox built up an 8-0 lead behind Tommy John and then held on to edge the Senators, who scored three runs in the seventh and a pair in the eighth.

John Romano hit two doubles and drove in a pair of runs and Don Buford and Tommy Agee each got three hits for Chicago. Don Lock homered for the Senators.

Consider the Austin Healey Sprite—it's a great way to get started. Sprite is the world's lowest-priced TRUE sports car (so you can start with a small investment and get big sports car features).

Sprite darts to 90 m.p.h., gives you four-on-the-floor, disc brakes and comfortable bucket seats.

Racing, rallying, or touring, Sprite's a fun car to drive at a price you'll like. TEST DRIVE THE SPRITE TODAY.

Hospitals Disclose More Paperwork On Medicare

Members of The Associated Press task force, who reported on the initial impact of medicare when it went into effect July 1, have kept a watch on hospitals in major cities during the program's first week. This is their report.

By The Associated Press

After the first week of medicare, the nation's hospitals generally report they have much more paperwork but not many more patients.

A survey in 12 major cities indicates that the number of 65-and-over patients entering hospitals has been mostly normal since the program of hospital insurance under Social Security went into effect July 1. Only Atlanta, with a 10 per cent gain, reported a significant increase.

"After all it's still the doctor who says when a patient should be admitted to a hospital," said Dr. Robert M. Hazen of Kansas City, advancing one reason for medicare's calm start.

Others given by hospital administrators included the availability of private medical insurance and other public health care, and the fact that medicare went into effect in summer, a normally slow time for hospitals.

In New York, said Dr. S. David Pomrinse, assistant director of Mt. Sinai Hospital, the city "has long made it a practice to give medical care to all people. The payoff is that we don't have any greater demand now than before."

The hospital's director of admissions, Nat Lewis, said: "The urgency, the scare has passed. Anything that comes now is simply a matter of procedure and that can be worked out. Our only impact here is paper."

That was the major impact also at Jackson Memorial Hospital in Miami, where head clerk Barbara Maton said her dozen helpers are "up to here in forms, perforated tape and problems."

Some hospital people warned that the future course of medicare may not run as smoothly as the past week.

John Brewer, chairman of the Southern California Council of Hospitals, pointed out that in Los Angeles fall is a more popular time than summer for elective surgery.

"This is going to be a gradual thing, not a sudden one," he predicted, reporting that he predicted cataract operations have increased in his area since July 1.

The real impact of medicare lies in the future, said Sister Mary James, administrator of Hotel Dieu (House of God), a New Orleans hospital.

"I have been told that the people now over 65 are people who always have avoided doctors or hospitals whenever possible and that the real medicare load will come when younger people reach the age of 65," she said. "I think there is some truth in this."

Those among the nation's 19 million persons 65 and over who have taken advantage of medicare so far had high praise for the program.

"If I didn't have it, I wouldn't be here," said Valentine Kuffel, 79, from his bed in St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Chicago. He was admitted July 4 for surgery.

"Of course I'm happy," said Vincent Locasio, 75, a retired carpenter, at Research Medical Center in Kansas City. "Why shouldn't I be? A lot of people have nothing to go on. This was necessary."

Not all patients admitted under medicare cannot afford private care. At Miami's Jackson Memorial Hospital, Raymond S. Perrine, 66, a former Pennsylvania coal magnate, was admitted after he got back from a world cruise last month. He found trouble developing with his Pacemaker, an instrument that keeps his heart beating.

"I thought if I could go a few more days, I could get in under medicare," said Perrine, who now lives in Bradenton, Fla. "So I negotiated with the doctor and was admitted July 2 and operated on July 3."

Perrine was happy to discover that medicare covered the cost of the Pacemaker, a delicate electronic battery inserted in a patient's body. He had deposited $500 to cover its cost but was told he would get the money back.

"I'm glad to hear it," he said. "I don't ever disregard the value of a dollar."

Broken Glass Cuts Intruder

A would-be intruder was cut on the hand or arm and left without any loot in an attempted entry at a downtown carry-out store Wednesday night or Thursday morning, police reported.

The miscarried burglary was reconstructed by officers who investigated the physical evidence found at the scene—P. & J. Carry-Out at 231 W. 6th St., owned by Pete Commarata.

Police said the would-be burglar apparently wrapped a towel around his fist to protect himself against cuts, then smashed two windows at the rear of the store and a pane of glass in the front door.

But the towel gimmick did not work, officers said, and the intruder apparently was cut about the hand or arm with broken glass. A blood-stained towel was found at the scene and a trail of blood led across the street and into a nearby alley, officers said.

The attempted entry was timed between midnight Wednesday and mid-morning Thursday. The only apparent loss was the smashing of two 2-x-3-foot windows in the rear of the building and the breaking of the 3-x-5-foot pane in the front door. Patrolman Jerry F. Adkins investigated.

Concept Of Black Power Decried By Rep. Stokes

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Negroes should keep in mind, says Negro State Rep. Carl Stokes of Ohio, that political action—not violence—is the process that every one of the ethnic minority groups have used to come to their power."

The Clevelander decried the "concept of black power" being debated by civil rights groups, saying the term "carries the significance of 'black threat,' and add an unnecessary, additional, self-imposed burden on the Negroes."

Stokes spoke Thursday at a political action workshop at the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People's convention.

He said the Negro rioting in Los Angeles' Watts section last August was "a good illustration of misused black power."

He urged Los Angeles Negroes to establish grass roots political power that would compel politicians to take care of their needs.

Vehicles 'Brush' On New Highway

An auto and a truck were damaged when they brushed in passing on the California Highway section of the Freeway Thursday at 4:03 p. m., police reported.

The mishap involved a 1956 sedan driven by James R. Powell, 20, of 1709 Maple Ave., Wellsville, and a 1965 model truck operated by William E. Clements, 60, of Weirton, officers said.

Clements said he was passing the auto when he heard a noise, which later proved to be the sound of the impact between the two vehicles. The two drivers halted and summoned police.

Another collision Thursday at 7:41 p. m. at Dresden Ave. and E. 9th St. damaged a 1931 four-door sedan driven by Herbert D. Reed, 56, of 289 Gardendale Ave. and a 1957 model truck operated by David E. Randolph, 32, of 221 E. 3rd St. officers said. Reed was pulling into the intersection from E. 9th and Randolph was driving south on Dresden, officers said.

Pennsylvania's Draft Quotas Are Increased

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's draft quotas for July and August have been increased, the Pennsylvania Office of Selective Service said Thursday.

Brig Gen. Henry M. Gross, state director, said the state's quota for July was raised from 1,325 to 1,425 and the quota for August from 1,684 to 1,892.

He said the increases were caused by increases in the national draft calls for those months.
